Profile

As a sixth-semester Statistics student and Minister of Student Resource Development (PSDM) in BEM FMIPA at Universitas Sebelas Maret, I manage a variety of programs that sharpen student skills. In this role, I lead activities and workshops to strengthen my peers' abilities. With a strong foundation in data analysis, data science, and machine learning, I'm driven to leverage data for impactful decision-making. I am also enthusiastic about deepening my skills in these fields to expand my contributions even further. Collaborative, organized, and eager to learn, I believe data is the key to meaningful solutions for the future
